AN INSIDE LOOK AT RANGE CREEK

WITH DUNCAN METCALFE, ARCHAEOLOGY
CURATOR FOR THE UTAH MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

February 21, 2006
6 PM
St. George County Library
88 West 100 South,
Community Room B
St. George, UT

Four years of archaeological investigations in Range Creek have uncovered over 350 sites, most representing the Fremont farmers of Utah (circa A.D. 200-1350). Duncan Metcalfe, Archaeology Curator for the Utah Museum of Natural History, will review these archaeological discoveries and discuss the current and future challenges of this remarkable canyon for members and friends of the Southern Utah Chapter of the University of Utah Alumni Association.

For more information or to RSVP, please contact Rick Miles, President of the Southern Utah Alumni Chapter of the University of Utah, by e-mail at r.miles@raymondjames.com or phone 435-688-8800.

And don’t miss our next Southern Utah Alumni Event:

Urban Challenges: Managing Growth in Red Rock Country
Brenda Sheer, Dean, College of Architecture + Planning
April 3 | St. George County Library

Together, We Reach.