Soojin Ahn
piano

At age three, Korean-born Soojin Ahn, who hails from a distinguished musical family, began playing piano and now has established herself as a classical virtuoso with unanimous critical acclaim. The burgeoning star has performed throughout North America, Europe, and Asia, earning the prestigious Gilmore Young Artist Award and the title of Audience Favorite at the Chopin International Piano Competition in Warsaw, among other awards. She stunned the music community at age 15 by playing for her debut recital Chopin’s 24 Études. The “go-for-it pianist” with “utter, rapt poise” (The Boston Globe) has soloed with notable orchestras such as the Boston Pops and the New England Chamber Orchestra. As a recitalist, Ahn has performed in New York City’s Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center and Boston’s Symphony Hall.

“She played...with a beautiful, full, velvety quality of tone, a vocal degree of rhythmic freedom, and a real generosity and sweetness of emotion.”
– The Boston Globe

“...Ahn’s superior mastery...caused a stir among the audience, pulling them, willing or not, into the heart of the music.”
– Chicago Sun-Times
